From the editor

At my home group, a member shared that as he enters a meeting, he reminds himself that he’s entering sacred space. This reminded me of the 2018 World Service Conference theme: Upon this common ground, we stand committed. This line is from A Vision for NA Service and is preceded by this sentence: All of the efforts of Narcotics Anonymous are inspired by the primary purpose of our groups—a reminder that carrying the NA message is our primary purpose and the common ground we share is a spiritual place. This was a WSC characterized by many history-making firsts—perhaps in part because the theme was a guide for the spiritual nature of the business being conducted on behalf of the NA Fellowship. We’ve summarized some of that work in this issue, but please read NAWS News (www.na.org/nawsnews) and visit www.na.org/conference for more detailed information.

Our Sharing section is bursting at the seams, including memories of some members who attended WCNA 19 in Orlando who will be returning for WCNA 37 this year; plus, a member shares his experience helping to plan and put on WCNA 22 in Toronto. We also have an extended Picture this section, celebrating worldwide home groups and events. Many of you will be reading this at WCNA 37 and, hopefully, many of you are reading this online so you can enjoy the extra features included with the electronic NA Way. If you’re not, please visit www.naway.org.

It’s time for an NA Way reader survey (p 17). We are dedicated to providing recovery and service information and recovery-related entertainment that speaks to current issues and events relevant to NA members worldwide. Please take the time to complete this survey. You can complete, print, and fax, mail, or email the survey in this issue or visit https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/NAWay to complete the survey online.

The NA Way Magazine welcomes letters from all readers. Letters to the editor can respond to any article that has appeared in The NA Way, or can simply be a viewpoint about an issue of concern in the NA Fellowship. Letters should be no more than 250 words, and we reserve the right to edit. All letters must include a signature, valid address, and phone number. First name and last initial will be used as the signature line unless the writer requests anonymity.
My name is Nat, an addict from Chiang Mai, Thailand. I haven’t always been here, though; my using days were in Los Angeles, California. I used on and off for 13 years. I would stop, just cold-turkey stop. My abstinence didn’t last long, a couple of years at most. Being egotistical, I thought I was finally okay, and then life got mundane really fast. Boredom kicked in, and the vicious cycle of using turned again and again.

Until one day I had had enough. I hated EVERYTHING, even drugs, but mostly I hated myself. Drugs weren’t working anymore, and I didn’t have the guts to end my life, so I decided, “Fine! I’ll live.”

Despite NA getting started in the Los Angeles area, I didn’t know anything about NA then. I just existed without using, I was hateful, and I became numb. That path was lonely and I was being destroyed from the inside. My physical health was fine; I didn’t use anymore, but my mind and spirit were in pure agony, which, of course, I buried and ignored. I wanted to run far away, so I moved to Thailand—and it was here that I found NA.

I walked in the NA room a skeptic, but I kept going back. I kept going back because each time I felt a little better than when I walked in. I felt a little less lonely. Days turned into weeks and weeks into months, until I realized someone really understood me and I knew that I did belong in NA. The path to recovery isn’t easy. We don’t change our thinking overnight. My head is still tricky, but I don’t have to walk this path alone anymore.

I live where NA isn’t widely known to local Thais. Even if there are meetings, the stigma of being an addict is so severe that it makes it hard for us to seek help, especially for women. There are hardly any Thai women in the rooms of NA. I know in my heart there are more of us who are still hurting out there. Where are you, sisters?

My experience at the first Asia Pacific Forum Convention of NA in Kathmandu (Nepal) was amazing. The convention gave us women special recognition and the Asia Pacific Forum welcomed us with open arms and friendliness. This is a program for everyone, regardless of gender identity. It filled me with hope that one day the Thailand NA community will be full of native Thais, and that women will feel safe to come together as we are.

In my using days I lived in a city where there are hundreds of meetings a week, yet I had never stepped foot into one. Now, here I am, where local meetings in Thai are scarce and resources in Thai are limited. I have to believe that it is a grand design of something greater than me that I am here with bilingual ability and the willingness to serve. We can only keep what we have by giving it away, truly.

Nat A, Chiang Mai, Thailand

Trans addict

I am a transgender addict with 34 years clean. I go to four or five meetings a week and I am involved in service. I live in a geographically remote location. We have an NA meeting about ten miles from me that meets twice a week. I have to travel about 45 miles to the next-nearest NA meeting. When I cannot do that, I attend meetings of other fellowships, but my heart is in NA, and that is the only place I do Twelve Step service. I wish I could attend four or five NA meetings a week, but here in the mountains there just is not enough support. Our local NA meeting fluctuates between three and eight attendees, and there have been many nights when it was just me.

I attend our area service committee meeting regularly, even when I do not have a service position there. My first sponsor was our literature chair, and I took over from him when I had about 18 months or so. Back then, I could carry the area’s literature in one suitcase. Over the years, I have served as literature chair in several areas in several states. Literature is my favorite service. I like the thought that when I say I carry the message, I mean that literally. Our area has about 30 or 40 groups, and we distribute about $2,500 worth of literature every month. Our current inventory fills about eight storage bins. I am not the chair now, but I do show up to help fill literature orders whenever I can.

I mentioned earlier that I am transgender. The reason I mention this is because NA has been very important to my coming out and my transition. I have attended quite a few gender-support groups, but I never find there what I find in NA—solutions. The transgender community suffers greatly from addiction, depression, and so on. I have read studies that show transgender adults are 14 times more likely to think about suicide and 22 times more likely to attempt suicide than the general public. In the gender-support groups I have attended, there is much talk of problems but little talk of solutions other than surgery.

In my opinion, that is not the solution to the "real" problem. For me, I think the "real" problem has been my lack of acceptance of myself and my fear of everything about coming out. So, I lived in secret, including during 29 years in recovery. After deciding to come out, I have seen how living the principles of NA has allowed me to grow and be happy as the woman I am. Principles like honesty, acceptance, integrity, willingness, faith, and perseverance have transformed me into the person I am today. The love and acceptance of everyone in the rooms has helped me immeasurably. I still plan to have surgery in the not-too-distant future; however, it is only to make a physical change, not to fix me spiritually. NA has been doing that for me for 34 years and will continue to do so, one day at a time, until I get my infinity coin (which I am in no hurry to collect).

At last

My name is Shahryar and I am an addict. I always liked doing things to be seen and to have attention. I liked to be cool; my friends were always older than me, and their habits were always against the law. But there was a strange feeling inside me that made me unhappy about what I had. It seemed like everything in my life was trying to make me an addict! I began to use drugs for pleasure at first, but after some years I became a dangerous addict who sought drugs in any condition. I was a professional thief and a perfect parasite who stole his friends’ and loved ones’ property. I went to prison for using and possessing drugs several times. I decided to give up using, but I couldn’t. I decided to marry, thinking perhaps this would help me, but that was the wrong dream, too. Eventually, everybody left me—my parents, my friends, and my lovely wife. I was deeply alone.

At last I received the message of NA from one of my dear friends. I didn’t believe that an addict could get clean and recover because I had tried every way to quit, and I was disappointed every time. I went to an NA meeting. I don’t understand what happened, but that was one of the most beautiful nights I had ever seen. In my past life, my loved ones wished for my death. At that meeting a miracle happened, and for an addict like me whose will was just one night without using, the dreams were changing into reality. That night someone hugged me—someone who didn’t know me! A kind member squeezed my hand, sharing pure love with me. I went to meetings regularly, as other members told me to. I chose a sponsor and did my Steps. I could change my behavior by working the Twelve Steps of Narcotics Anonymous.

Nothing is as precious as an addict in recovery helping another addict, and in this case I began to help others, too. I decided to make amends with my sponsor’s help. It was an amazing and happy day when I made amends for the hurt I had caused my sister, and I’ll remember that day for the rest of my life. My family forgave me, and after four and a half years, my wife came back to our home. After one year of living with her again, on my six-years-clean birthday, my son was born, and he is the best gift that God has granted to me. Soon, my son will be six years old and I will be twelve years clean.

I appreciate NA. I owe my life to Narcotics Anonymous, and the best time of my life is when I share my recovery with another addict. To be a servant for another addict is like a warranty for life.

Success story

This addiction and recovery thing started when I was young. I was addicted to anything that made me feel good and things that gave me a natural high. I was involved in sports and athletics. The feeling of being accepted by my friends was an integral part of my life—and I was addicted to that. I was searching for the best and most challenging feat that I could possibly accomplish. I was motivated and really committed to things that I worked at, such as school and teams. I was a successful student and worked hard and partied more intensely. The composition of the drug didn’t matter. Running was a natural high, and then the chemicals that running released caused me to seek out a higher feeling and state of physicality. I became a part of many different groups in school and became part of the drug culture. I abused the chemicals that were available to me, and running was put on the side. Gradually, the drugs I used took control of my life.

I went away to college and then flunked out because of mental collapse. I was mentally unstable, and my supporters in life came and brought me back from school. I was slowly degenerating, and then something powerful happened. I was introduced to recovery and NA. Mentally, I became stable through recovery systems. I am a success story today in that I am currently working at a job where I have been for almost a year. I was unable to keep a job for even a month when I was mentally unstable. Clean days pile upon clean hours and clean minutes. I am in recovery for the long haul and a success to my peers, family, and the community.

Today I have addiction days and I have recovery days. Addiction days are when the disease is rearing its head and I act out on a defect, resentment, or anything else that is a direct result of me having the disease of addiction. I take part in art shows and exercise regularly. My life is full and powerful. My goal is to reach out to a newcomer and be there to give support. I have dreams as well that I am realizing because of NA. NA is the power that I didn’t even see as being a savior or a reality. Running and exercise and art and photography were my addiction, and drugs were the hiccup along the way that brought me to where I am. Just for today, I live without drugs, and I want to thank NA for everything in my life and what’s to come. Today I choose recovery.

Service strengthens

My story is one that only dreams are made of. When I first came into recovery, I didn’t grasp the concept of others—it was all about me, myself, and I. Likewise, I didn’t comprehend what service was. That was something someone else did, right?! I thought that I was not yet ready for service; I was too early in recovery.
The truth is that service makes me more ready for many things and more able to do whatever it is I need to do.

So, first I did tea and coffee at meetings, and then I was involved in starting a new meeting. After that I joined the phoneline subcommittee, and then I became GSR of that group. At the time that I’m writing this, I am serving as the chairperson of our phoneline subcommittee.

I never thought I would be able to stop using drugs, lose the desire to use, and discover a new way of life. What I knew for sure was that I’d be doing the same thing until the day I died: using drugs. I cannot believe this is me—anxious, shy, awkward me, who hates being the center of attention and is no leader. But today, I know and comprehend that being of service is not about me, it’s about others; so, I can be anything I need to be in that role. The blessings I have today are indescribable.

Lindie P, Cape Town, South Africa

A continuous process

Living life on life’s terms and in a Fellowship called Narcotics Anonymous saved my life. This program has changed my insecurities, complexes, fears, lack of trust, irresponsibility, manipulation, and especially my isolation. I am no longer incapable of holding onto a job, and I no longer believe that I will die using. Today I am a productive, trustworthy member of society, and I have improved every aspect of my life.

I have learned through my defects of character that I am not worse or better than anyone else; I am only who I am. Criticizing, deceiving, and confronting have manifested themselves throughout my life. Denial and ego can lead me to resist change, which hampers my recovery process. My disease tries to tell me that I am not like that, that this doesn’t happen to me, and that I will never do what some other members do. Addiction tries to keep me far away from the one thing that can save my life.

I continue healing, especially by serving our Fellowship so that any suffering addict seeking recovery is aware of NA. My disease has been unmasked through a wide sphere of experiences over many years, such as the passing of two of my children, ending of relationships, divorces, bankruptcy, and geographical changes. But I have also learned and grown through trustworthy relationships in recovery with fellow members who have been vital in my recovery.

So, recovery is a continuous process of discovering enough information and maturity to achieve change and to heal. Working the Steps, sponsorship, seeking help from well-informed professionals, and being of service in NA and in my community are a part of this process for me. I find solutions through one addict helping another: talking to sponsees and my sponsor, newcomers, and those with long-term recovery. Thanks to these experiences and our program, today I am responsible for my actions, I live in peace, and I am free.

WCNA 22: 3–6 September 1992
Toronto, Canada

Editor’s note: In 1992, unlike today, NA World Convention sites were determined through a bidding process and the local host committee was accountable to the World Convention Board of Directors.

In the fall of 1989 a group of five members from Toronto met to discuss the possibility of forming a bid committee to submit a proposal to host the World Convention. A couple of us had been to the World Convention in New Orleans, which thousands attended, and we were overwhelmed with fear over such a huge undertaking. We agreed to meet again and review the guidelines for submitting a bid.

At the time, there were about 20 meetings in the Toronto Area, including Hamilton and Barrie. Our area service committee and the Ontario Region were four years old. Toronto had successfully hosted 200 members at the first regional convention at the University of Toronto.

During our meeting to review the bid guidelines it was clear we were in way over heads—and, as was often the case in those early years, this was not something we were even close to being capable of doing. No one had near the cleantime requirements, we didn’t have enough convention experience in the area or region, our area was too small, and there was no way the Toronto Area or Ontario Region would support the idea. Combining spiritual doses of blind faith and courage, we made the unanimous decision to go for it anyway!

We received support to form a bid committee from both the area and region. There were meetings with the City of Toronto. Our bid included the costs to use the recently built Toronto Convention Centre, rooms in multiple hotels downtown, transportation between venues, and a number of events in different locations. Within a few months, the bid for WCNA 22 in 1992 was complete, just a couple weeks short of the deadline. We held a dinner for our last meeting and packaged the bid for mail delivery to the World Service Office (WSO). Our bid committee was dissolved and it was now in God’s hands.

Weeks later, I received a call from the WSO to acknowledge our bid. Two WSO employees came to Toronto to meet with the bid committee and review every aspect of our proposal. We spent three days together. It was all becoming very real as they shared their experience and vision. There were also bids from Montreal and Vancouver. In 1990, the World Convention Board of Directors decided Toronto would host WCNA 22! Hurray!

Whoa! Yikes! We formed a convention committee in Toronto, and began the two-year planning process. It started with projecting attendance and creating a budget. While we were planning the World Convention, Canada NA was experiencing growth in other areas, too. The WSO was developing the Canadian Distribution Center in Mississauga, which would help to improve shipping of NA literature and products throughout Canada.

And soon after the distribution center opened, we formed the Canadian Assembly (zonal forum). It was an exciting time to watch our local NA community growing and maturing.

The weekend prior to the Convention, about a hundred members attended a barbeque at the host hotel and we prepared thousands of registration packages. Hundreds of boxes of merchandise were piled on pallets in the loading area below and we had to inventory and organize all of that, too.

More than 4,500 NA members attended WCNA 22, and it was a success! Many longtimers who volunteered/attended still remain in recovery today. I honor the pioneering spirit of the original bid committee: Michelle F, Susan S, Rachelle A, and Wayne (whose last name I can’t remember), along with the amazing convention committee and hundreds of volunteers who made WCNA 22 a success. Acting as chairperson for the Convention remains one of my greatest life experiences. I wrote this in July 2017—25 years since WCNA 22—and I thought of addicts around the world who can still imagine the freedom of living clean and recovering the NA way!

WCNA 19: The magic was real

29 years ago

WCNA 19, Orlando, Florida... I was there with three years clean! I got really inspired by the oldtimers talking about the growth of NA, and WOW, we have seen SO much growth since then. Grateful I've stuck around to see it and to enjoy living clean. Just for today, no matter what, I’ll have 31 years when this Convention [WCNA 37] rolls around. Hugs & love, y'all.

Duncan B, California, USA

Magic memories

I’m excited about this year’s WCNA being in Orlando again, because I attended WCNA 19 in Orlando in 1989. I was five years clean and had attended the two previous WCNAs: New Orleans in 1987 and Anaheim in 1988. So, I was feeling like an experienced WCNA recovering addict.

This was only my second time in Florida; I had attended a World Service Conference quarterly in Miami earlier in 1989. Orlando was absolutely beautiful. The city was full of buzz because the Magic, their professional basketball team, would debut around the same time as WCNA. Our Convention’s theme shared the word magic with Orlando’s pro basketball team. Pictures of their star player (a skinny rookie by the name of Shaquille) were posted everywhere. Every conversation with local residents centered on this excitement.

One of the biggest thrills was sporting my “The Magic Is Real” convention jacket. Man, I loved that jacket, and I hate that I lost it over the years. I am so excited that this year’s WCNA theme and logo are almost the same as WCNA 19’s. I can’t wait to get my new jacket. I’ll do a better job of keeping track of this one.

My final memory may not seem exciting to some. I remember John K, a grateful recovering addict from New York, canvassing the Convention and asking members to sign a petition that he would subsequently submit to the WSO requesting dances with music that African Americans could dance to. I can’t recall if there were a lot of African Americans at WCNA 19, but I do recall John and his petition. I recall being excited and eager to sign the petition.

It’s funny because I was recently asked by some members to make a request to NA World Services and the World Board for a “steppin’ set” at WCNA 37. A steppin’ set is a dance popular among many African American NA members that includes R&B music. I made the request, and I believe John would be proud. We will know soon if our request will be granted. More will be revealed!

David W, Georgia, USA

Back to Orlando

My first World Convention was WCNA 19, back in 1989: The Magic Is Real. I had three years clean, a wonderful spouse, and two small kids. We spent our days with "the large rodent" down the road; and once the kids were asleep on their feet, we returned to the hotel, put them to bed, and I headed up the highway to WCNA. Those kids are grown (one is in recovery), that marriage is completed, and the mouse is still doing his thing. And me, I am heading back to Orlando for WCNA 37, still as excited as the first time I attended WCNA back in 1989, just a bit older, and hopefully a bit wiser. The Magic Is Still Real!

The 2018 World Service Conference took place 28 April–5 May 2018, in Woodland Hills, California. Every two years, the WSC is the time and place where all of our World Services come together to consider issues and questions significant to our worldwide Fellowship. The WSC supports the Fellowship as a whole according to the group conscience of NA.

For several years, the WSC has been evolving from using parliamentary procedure to using a consensus-based decision-making process. This Conference included many changes in operating procedures and policies to move closer to that model. It was also a Conference of many firsts—including the opening session, aptly titled “First Things First.” This session is an opportunity for introductions and a time for the body to come together in spirit before business begins. At the end of this opening session, the Serenity Prayer is shared in all of the languages present (25 this year)—and the electronic issue of this NA Way includes an audio recording of that spiritually moving event.

We can’t cover every detail of the eight-day WSC here, but we’ve included some highlights and encourage all members to visit www.na.org/conference for more comprehensive information, including a draft summary of decisions.

Conference Firsts

- Some participants attended and participated through an internet connection: The Iran regional delegate and the alternate delegates from Iran and Australia, who were unable to obtain visas, participated virtually.
- Zonal delegates from five zonal forums attended as nonvoting participants: the Asia Pacific Forum, the Canadian Assembly, the European Delegates Meeting, the Russian-Speaking Zone, and the Southern Zonal Forum.
- No formal business sessions using parliamentary procedure took place. Decisions were made with an evolving form of consensus-based decision making.
- The Grande São Paulo, HOW, and Rio de Janeiro Regions participated as seated members.

The opening session of the WSC ends with the Serenity Prayer in all the languages present at the Conference.

After a moment of silence, the Serenity Prayer, and a rousing welcome to the World Service Conference, World Board Chairperson Arne H-G offered these “flight instructions” to participants.

Thank you for joining us this week on our flight to serenity. Our arrival time at the end of this “flight” is May fifth. We will be traveling at an altitude of approximately three to ten feet (I know we’re all familiar with being higher). You’re in good hands today as we have a seasoned veteran in the cockpit: Our pilot today is God.

We ask that you have worked your Steps and that your “baggage” is safely stowed for the duration of the flight. Once we reach cruising altitude, feel free to roam about the cabin. When you are in your seats, we ask that you keep your seatbelts fastened for your safety.

In the event of turbulence, the “feelings” light will come on. Please do not panic. Sponsors will drop from the overhead compartment automatically. Please engage them, breathe normally, and work the Steps—or simply call them and ask for help. If you’re traveling with a newcomer, please work the Steps first before putting the program on them.

If for whatever reason we have to make an emergency landing over the “sea of confusion,” there are Basic Texts located across the hall. Remove them from their plastic wrappers and simply open them. They are a great flotation device.

We have a new piece of safety equipment on board today. We have life preservers that are manufactured by a company called “ego.” We have found that this piece of equipment actually works better when you do NOT use it. The ego, however, may automatically deploy. Once again, I cannot stress this enough: Please do not use the ego! Nothing is more dangerous in an aircraft than an inflated ego. If you notice that one of your fellow passengers has accidentally deployed their ego, please point it out to them, but note that their first response may be defensive.

We are delighted to have you on board. Please put your chairs in the upright position, and fasten your seatbelts in preparation for takeoff. Thank you for flying WSC Airlines, and we sincerely hope you have a rewarding flight.

WSC 2018 Statistics

- Of 118 seated regions, 114 regional delegates (RDs) participated. Iran participated via internet. Denmark, Ecuador, El Salvador, and France did not attend.
- Of the 114 RDs from seated regions participating, 65 were from the US, 5 were from Canada, and 44 were from outside the US and Canada.
- Of 89 alternate delegates (ADs) from seated regions participating, 63 were from the US, 4 were from Canada, and 22 were from outside the US or Canada. Iran and Australia ADs joined via the internet.
- Conference participants included 154 men and 67 women—RDs, ADs, World Board (WB) members, and zonal delegates (ZDs).
- Conference participants were from 39 countries and spoke 25 languages (based on Serenity Prayer languages at the close of the First Things First session).
- There were 127 voting members at this WSC—114 RDs and 13 World Board members. And there were 89 ADs, 4 zonal delegates, 4 HRP members, 2 cofacilitators, 3 translators, and 1 parliamentarian.
- Three regions were newly seated: Netherlands, Mexico/Occidente, and Ukraine.
- Thirty-six motions passed, 1 was committed to the WB, 21 failed, and 7 were withdrawn or not introduced. Some of the motions that passed included:
  - Motion 1: Develop a project plan to convert Social Media and Our Guiding Principles service pamphlet into a recovery IP.
  - Motion 5: NA Service prayer using language already in the Basic Text, substituting the word write with the word serve: GOD, grant us knowledge that we may serve according to Your Divine precepts. Instill in us a sense of Your purpose. Make us servants of Your will and grant us a bond of selflessness that this may truly be Your work, not ours, in order that no addict, anywhere, need die from the horrors of addiction.
  - Motion 9: Develop a project plan to create or revise a piece of recovery literature to address DRT/MAT. (At their June meeting, the World Board added DRT/MAT as it relates to NA as an Issue Discussion Topic, which will help in developing the project plan.)
  - Motion 12: Hold a public relations week beginning in 2019.
  - Motion 13: Authorize the WB to define more special days, like Unity Day, in the yearly calendar.
  - Motion 16: Present a project plan at 2020 WSC on the role of zones, their relationship to the wider Fellowship, and integrating zonal delegate participation in decision making at WSC.
  - Motion 18: Any zonal forum with two or more zonally seated regions or communities that are not seated at the WSC may choose to send one ZD to the WSC to represent those communities or regions.
  - Motions 19, 20, 21: Zonal delegates are voting members at the WSC with one vote; ZDs are eligible for the same funding as RDs when attending the WSC (travel, lodging, meal expenses); alternate ZDs may attend WSC with same rights and limitations as ADs.
  - Proposal A: Approve remote participation at WSC for Conference participants unable to attend due to visa issues.
  - Motions 26–29, 50–59, and 30: Procedural motions for how business is handled at the WSC—as an experiment for 2018, but will become policy if they work well; and approve minutes of WSC 2016.

Recovery goes to the park

In Porto Alegre, the capital of Rio Grande do Sul (the southernmost state of Brazil), there is a park called Redenção. It is a huge place of 370,000 square meters dedicated to sports, chimarrão wheels (traditional drink), or simply rest and leisure with family and friends. But the park is also occupied by drug users and traffickers. So it was there that on 25 February 2018, the first outdoor meeting of the group Milagres do Meio-Día (Midday Miracles) de Narcóticos Anônimos was held.

About two dozen members attended, and in between each share, one could hear the singing of the birds and the rustle of the tallest trees that surrounded the meeting. Among the shares were confessions like “I’ve used drugs in this place,” and even “I’ve dealt drugs in here.” The emphasis, however, was on recovery—from the place and the life. Before the closing, the sound of a flute played by a member rocked the practice of Step Eleven.

Yes, in the most popular park in the city, so often used as a haven for criminals or a hideout for addicts experiencing human misery and absurd fears, on that sunny Sunday it was the recovery that made the “room” beautiful, green, healthy, and free.
